What is CoinStarz?

CoinStarz is a platform for stars to be paid with their preferred cryptocurrency.

We support stars, online and offline, who produce high quality content.

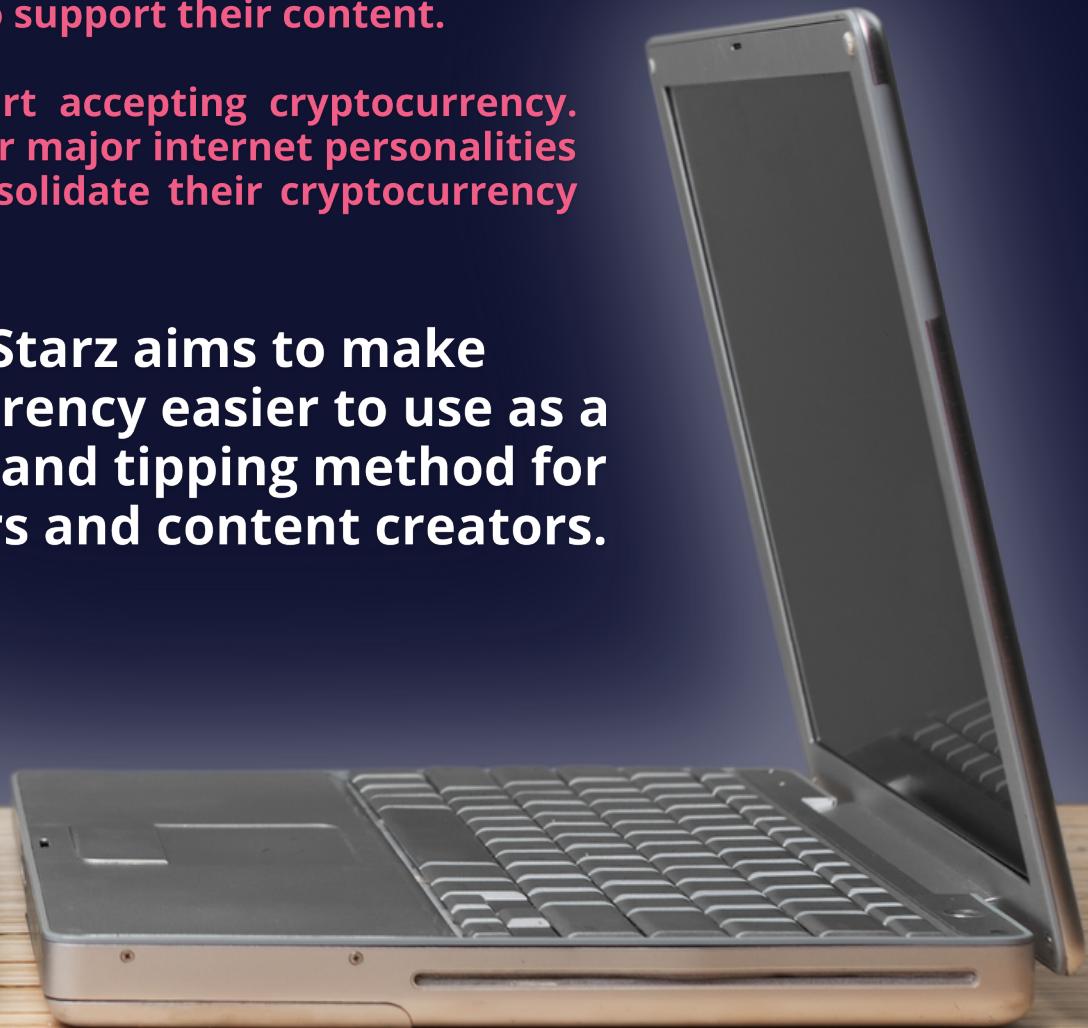

Introduction

Internet stars, streamers, and influencers are currently making a percentage of their income via donations and tips with FIAT currency. Eventually, more and more internet stars will begin accepting cryptocurrency, as it becomes an increasingly viable payment method to support their content.

Online stars will need a platform that eases their transition to start accepting cryptocurrency. Coinstarz aims to be that platform. With Coinstarz, influencers and other major internet personalities can have an organized and easy-to-use platform that helps them consolidate their cryptocurrency donation addresses all in one place.

CoinStarz aims to make cryptocurrency easier to use as a donation and tipping method for influencers and content creators.

Current Drawbacks

The number of influencers, streamers, and other internet stars that accept cryptocurrencies is surprisingly low.

Traditional Fiat Fees: Most stars use websites and platforms that take a portion of their donations or tips.

Crypto Clutter: Cryptocurrency requires maintaining many wallets and keeping up with many different contract addresses.

CoinStarz Platform

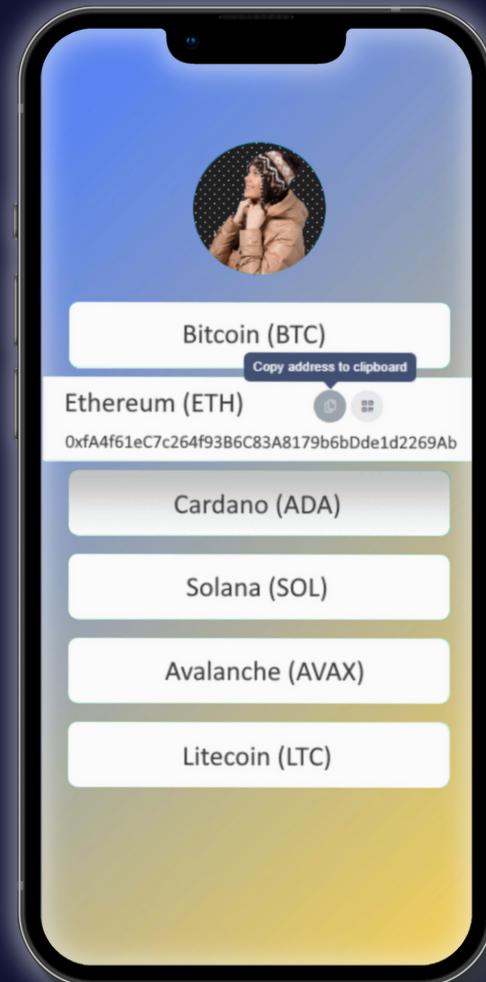

Supporters will only need ONE click to our platform to have a clear list of all the cryptocurrencies an influencer accepts, with all their corresponding addresses, ready to go.

Cryptocurrencies are peer-to-peer, this means that individuals send and receive their payments directly, with no middleman, banking app, or website that gets a cut of a influencer's hard-earned pay. Using cryptocurrencies as a means of payment makes it easier for internet personalities to get 100% of their profits.

Coinstarz takes away the clutter by putting all your crypto addresses in one single place.

Cryptocurrency, coupled with the Coinstarz platform, creates an easy avenue of payment for influencers and eliminates many inconveniences associated with the current state of being tipped with crypto.

Conclusion

A vast majority of influencers and other content creators realize these types of financial gains without the added benefits of adopting cryptocurrency. When influencers make the leap to accepting and utilizing cryptocurrency, their potential incomes can go up astronomically.

Coinstarz is here to make that leap easier for online content creators and help them realize the potential wealth that is sitting in front of them.
